Eden Sassoon's Love Note

Eden Sassoon's Love Note

"In 2013, I was introduced to The Thirst Project and my life was changed forever. My father (Vidal Sassoon) believed if the hair-dressing community came together as one, they could create miracles. He did what he did with a pure heart and was the poetry for change. It has become my mission with Beauty Gives Back that we UNITE the beauty industry through education to create a better world for those around us. "

TOGETHER, WE WILL END THIRST.

Beauty Gives Back is a non-profit organization dedicated to uniting the professional beauty industry in the fight against the global water crisis. Eden Sassoon, daughter of legendary Vidal Sassoon, has led the charge in building a team of the most elite and sought after hairdressers in the world to raise funds for The Thirst Project through educational events devoted to furthering the craft of hairdressing
